Professional Summary

I hold a graduate degree in Computer Science and practical experience with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Tailwind CSS, and React.js, together with a genuine interest in frontend development and UI design. I have now decided to change the focus of my efforts and to set new goals since AI has made it easier and faster to carry out full-stack development. My present aim is to enter the IT industry, gain some practical experience, and acquire strong technical skills by working in real-world situations. My long-term aim is to build expertise in Cloud, Networking, Systems, and Architecture.
